A tremendous entry of Championship contenders.

Three Championship rounds and a Formula 3 race pack an exciting programme.

What a wealth of entries and what a promise of exciting racing is offered by this afternoon's meeting, organised by the Sutton and Cheam Motor Club.

Just take a glance at the races, and you'll quickly see what a fine programme it is—three championship rounds and a talent-packed Formula 3 race for good measure. Not only are there qualifying races for the Les Leston Formula Ford Championship, the Hepolite-Glacier Saloon Car Championship and the SKF Grand Touring Car Championship, but also a 20-lap event for star drivers in Formula 3—the racing category which is currently providing the closest and most thrilling racing of all.

Everyone who managed to get here on July 17, for the Formula 3 race on the eve of the Grand Prix, agreed that it was quite tremendous. That, of course, was on the full circuit, but today's F3 event on the Club circuit should be no less exciting.

Just take a look down the list of entries for Event Five and you will appreciate just what a battle is in prospect. In the list is Alan Harvey, with his Brabham BT28, who holds the F3 lap record in 49.6 seconds, exactly 90 miles an hour, and since that record was set last October, it might be beaten this afternoon. Then we have Gerry Birrell, who is going well with his Brabham BT28 this season; local lad Terry Harmer in his well used but still potent Brabham BT21B; Wilson Fittipaldi (Emerson's elder brother) from Brazil with a Lotus; and David Morgan in a March 703. And not forgetting Steve Matchett, the American driver, with his Chevron B15. Plenty of close racing in prospect for that £50 first prize!

The most popular racing category amongst drivers these days is Formula Ford, and the entry for the 13th round of the Les Leston Formula Ford Championship was so heavy that the organisers split it into two 8-lap heats and a 15-lap final. Just about everybody who matters in Formula Ford is in the entry list, including of course Colin Vandervell with his Merlyn 11A. Son of the late Tony Vandervell, the man who put British motor racing back on the map in the late fifties with his Vanwalls, Colin was taught to drive by his father when he was only twelve. He spent several years karting before turning to car racing last season, when he had 9 wins in Formula Ford events. This year he has done even better; he is threatening to win the Johnson Euro-Trophy and is leading the Les Leston Championship by a useful margin. In the first eleven rounds of the Les Leston series he has had an impressive total of eight victories, so he should certainly be favourite this afternoon. Which is not to say he hasn't got some useful opposition, for among the entries is Geddes Yeates, whose Merlyn 11A is entered by the Jim Russell Racing Drivers' School. Geddes, a 25-years-old draughtsman from a village near Hertford, is a very consistent performer, and in the first ten Les Leston Championship rounds he failed to score only once, with a couple of wins, three second places, three thirds and a fourth.

There's no mistaking Simon Ridge's Automex Mini, with its bonnet 'snout.' He is down to drive in the up-to-1,000 cc Hepolite-Glacier Saloon Car Championship round this afternoon. (Photograph by Peter Tempest)

Tom Leake, a Midlands motoring journalist, is due to be out today in the SKF Grand Touring Car Championship qualifier with his Zagato-bodied Aston Martin.

(Photograph by Gerry Stream)

Another driver to look out for is Peter Lamplough in his Palliser WDF2 with which he has already scored a Leston win. And that's by no means the end of the possible points scorers in a field which includes such names as John Hamilton, Mo Harness, Peter Hull, Tony Roberts, Reg James, Sid Fox and Jeremy Gambs (who holds the Formula Ford lap record here in 54.2 seconds 82.36 mph).

There is also a wealth of top talent entered for the 13th round of the Hepolite-Glacier Championship, with a 15-lap race for the up-to-1,000 cc class, and another 15-lapper for the 1,001-1,300 cc and over 1,300 cc class.

In the qualifier for the smaller-capacity machinery Roger Williamson, the young Leicester driver, who has had tremendous success with his Holbay-engined Ford Anglia, will be trying to add to his long list of victories this season. In the other Hepolite-Glacier race Rob Mason, from Bexley, will be attempting to add to his consistent points scoring in the 1,001-1,300 cc class, an effort which is resulting in a neck-and-neck struggle with Williamson for the overall Championship lead.

A glance at the Championship table shows that the top capacity class is fairly open, and with all the class leaders entered, plus Dave Brodie, from Hurley, near Maidenhead, in his potent 2.1 litre Ford Escort, and Weybridge-based Roy Pierpoint in the exciting 4½ litre Rover, there is every prospect of a tough contest.

There is an equally fierce battle in prospect in the SKF Grand Touring Car Championship race, with Beric Ewin, a young London car salesman who names chess as one of his hobbies, trying to increase his up-to-1,150 cc class and overall lead with his WRA Mk 3 from Brian Martin, who heads the 1,601-2,500 cc class with his Martin BMW BM7 and is second to Ewin overall. And in the 1,151-1,600 cc class look out for a tussle between Les Aylott (Ardua GT) and Jim Baldwin (Lotus 23B).

Right from the start of the programme to the last race this is an afternoon that promises some really good competition.
